July 2026 continued recovery in non-residents' non-cash spending, while regional performance remains uneven.

Overall transaction growth slightly outpaced spending growth, suggesting that activity remained strong while average spending per transaction softened marginally. Adjara recorded the highest average transaction value in both categories, followed by Kakheti and Tbilisi.

Tbilisi's July performance remained positive across both categories. Total spending and average transaction values increased in both hotels and restaurants, with particularly strong growth in restaurant spending.

Adjara's July performance was hotel-led, with increases in both total hotel spending and average transaction values. Restaurant spending posted only a modest annual increase, while average transaction values fell below last year's level, indicating an increase in the number of transactions.

In Kakheti, both total non-cash spending and average transaction values increased across hotels and restaurants, with the growth more pronounced in the restaurants segment.

Looking ahead, peak-season activity in August is expected to support strong hotel performance in Adjara and continued growth in Tbilisi and Kakheti.

Note: Sector growth is based on POS and E-commerce payments through TBC channels; Growth rates may differ from market turnover dynamics due to the changing share of non-cash transactions and TBC market share

In July 2026, non-residents' total non-cash spending and the number of non-cash transactions increased annually by 26% and 27%, respectively.
